

700 sets plus perfect game earn top billing in local bowling

(3.9.2023)

It was a week when pins were flying and strikes were plentiful with six 700 sets and a perfect game being rolled this past week.

The high series was posted by T.J. Mooney during Thursday Night Sundowners competition. He was consistent with individual games of 258, 255, and 256 contributing towards a 769 total to take the weekly honors. He rolled 26 strikes and had an open frame in the first and third game.

Russell Mason recorded the second high total in the same league with individual games of 269, 212, and 252 for a 733 set.

The perfect game was executed by Kenny Schupbach in his second game of Monday Mixed competition. He finished with a strike to end the first game with a 224, rolled 12 strikes for his 300 and then started the third game with a turkey for 16 strikes in a row. A final game of 208 gave him a 732 series to lead the league and third high for the week. This was Kenny's third career 300 game with his previous one being recorded on March 23, 2015 at the Century.

Steve Dickinson came close to adding to his perfect game total last Thursday when he started league play with 11 strikes in a row before a high hit left the 6 pin for a 299 game. He lost his strike line and rolled a 173 second game before bouncing back to finish with a 249 and 721 total.

Tom Crowe with games of 226, 245, and 243 for a 714 and Dave Matthews with a big 269 first game contributing towards a 703 were the other 700 bowlers.

Other men bowlers breaking the 250-650 mark were myself with a last game of 279 contributing towards a 697. A solid pocket hit on the 10th ball left the 10 for a spare and strike and just missed the 700 mark in Over The Hill League action. Danny Reissig (258-682), Woody Wood (254-678/655), Justin Shoup (675), Jonathan Martinez (257-671), Jacob Silgero (280-669), Tamarcus Bennett (669), Rob Lyman (655), and Matthew Flores (664).

Kayla Shaffer, a former collegiate bowler from Louisiana, continues to dominate the local women's scoring. She started Monday Night competition with games of 242 and 229 before slowing down to a final 185 for an excellent 656 set. Two open frames with only one double hurt her final game.

Trudy Wortham with a 223-578 and Judy Reyna with 565 also scored well.

A reminder that the final entry deadline for the Annual Open and Women's City Tournaments is Sunday March 12 at the close of the Century Lanes business night.
